

Courtesy of the Guilford Keeping Society Library Committee

The Green was the center of the town in life and death.. It was the cemetery until about 1817.. It had a diagonal Coach Road across it as indicated by the dotted lines.. There, too, were the Churches, School and Town House.. The Green was cleared of all buildings in 1820, and took on its present appearance... Delineated in this Year 1947 by Lois North with quills from her geese..

COPYRIGHT 1947 by LOIS NORTH

Quilford, Connecticut

